

Dear colleague:

We remind you that on July 1, 2 and 3, 2020, a set of highly relevant and attractive coordinated scientific events in the field of Marine Sciences will take place in Barcelona:

- VII International Symposium on Marine Sciences (ISMS 2020)
- XX Iberian Seminar of Marine Chemistry (SIQUIMAR)
- Workshop on Marine Garbage (BAMAR)
- Workshop on Marine Reserves (REMAR)

These four events will be held at the same venue, in the faculties of Biology and Earth Sciences of the University of Barcelona, under a single registration mode, so that any participant will be able to freely attend sessions, oral presentations and poster exhibitions of his/her interest and will have plenty of opportunities to exchange knowledge and ideas in an open and extensive way.

Important news!

Registration is open, do not wait any longer!

You can now register through the website www.isms.cat. Please, remember that the reduced fee period ends on March 31. Do not wait any longer!

Exclusive accommodation at reduced price now available. Book now!

The organization offers exclusive accommodation a few meters from the event's venue. Please, be aware that the number of rooms at unbeatable price is limited. Book now through the registration area of the website www.isms.cat!

Full refund if your communication is not accepted

You shouldn't be worried about registering or booking accommodation before knowing if your communication is going to be accepted. You will be fully reimbursed in case your communication is not accepted. You have no reason to wait. Sign up and book now your accommodation with us!

Keynote speakers

We already have confirmation of the participation of several invited speakers, who are scientific leaders in their respective fields. Enter our website and see who they are!

Deadline for submitting communications now open!

The deadline for submitting communications is February 15, 2020. Do not miss it and submit your contributions through the communications area of the web. You can submit a maximum of 6 abstracts per registration, with a maximum of 2 communications per event.

You will be able to follow the news and updates on ISMS 2020, SIQUIMAR, BAMAR and REMAR on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter. The website of the set of events (www.isms.cat) will allow you to consult the calendar and the program of sessions, remind the key dates, submit your communications, register in once for all events and book accommodation. In addition it will help you finding the contact people for general questions and for every event, together with practical information and answers to frequently asked questions and everything you should be aware of. From now you can contact info@isms.cat for general inquiries and administracion@isms.cat for administrative issues.

Please, do not hesitate to forward this e-mail to other people in your research team, department, institute or faculty, and to all those who you think might be interested.

